A healthy life with dignity means ...

... enabling people to access basic medical services,

That is why in 2014 we:

Built or returned 14 health facilities to use, and trained 3,595 people in the health sector.

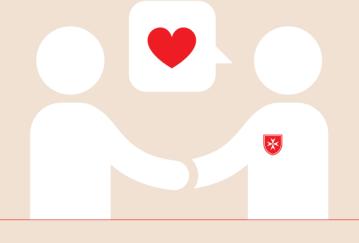

Built or rebuilt 5,142 latrines giving around 100,000 people access to sanitary facilities.

Our impact in 2014

That is why in 2014 we:

Installed rain water collection tanks, water filters, standpipes and new or repaired water pipes to bring clean drinking water to 305,547 people.

... a healthy diet,

That is why in 2014 we:

Provided 9,520 children under five with a therapeutic diet enriched with vitamins and minerals to prevent malnutrition, and gave 18,791 people seeds, animals, agricultural tools and the appropriate guidance so that they could improve their diet and quality of life through fruit and vegetable cultivation, husbandry and arable farming.

... help when you're in need,

That is why in 2014 we:

Brought emergency relief to 373,393 people by providing them with medication, drinking water, food, hygiene articles and emergency shelters.

... a safe place to live.

That is why in 2014 we:

Built or rebuilt 1,146 houses and 22 social facilities such as schools, nurseries and community centers and prepared people in vulnerable areas for emergencies with 251 disaster preparedness training sessions.
